Affiliate Congregations/Organizations

An affiliate congregation/organization should be willing to endorse The Center's programs through making referrals and inviting Coastal Samaritan Counseling Center staff to provide programming assistance.

Covenant Congregations/Organizations

In order to qualify as a covenant congregation/organization, a congregation/organization should be engaged in the following ways:

- A. In addition to referrals and activities involving The Center as with affiliated organizations, there should be evidence of a clear covenant represented by either a line item budget amount or the organization's service as host for the principle Center location or one of its satellites.
- B. Each covenanting congregation/organization shall have the privilege of electing one person to serve on the Board of Directors.
- C. A minimum of six (6) regular directors of the Board of Directors shall be chosen from among the covenanting congregations/organizations.
- D. Each affiliate or covenant congregation/organization may select one representative to be a regular Director. Each affiliate congregation may also be entitled to have one of its clergy serve as an ex-officio Director. The senior minister or his/her representative shall be an ex-officio director by virtue of his/her position as clergy of an affiliate congregation. However, any affiliate congregation may elect to have its clergy representative serve as its selected representative as a regular Director of the Board of Directors. Should an affiliate congregation elect to have one of its clergy serve as a regular Director of the Board of Directors, it will be the responsibility of the affiliate congregation to communicate that information to the Executive Committee of the Board.
